IAF Canada Updates

Greetings Facilitators Extraordinaire:

Here we are February 2013!!! Are you ready for another set of IAF Canada "Facilitators Do It In Groups" Dialogues?

Our first webinar will see Ethan "Jerry" Mings facilitating a dialogue on facilitation and technology. There is no one in Canada that I know of better than Jerry to share with us what technology: software and or hardware we as facilitators should be and/or could be using to enhance what we offer our clients and/or organizations.

There is so much out there to choose from. Are you missing a technology that could make your work simpler and or provide better outcomes for your client and/or organization? Did you know that there are tools for graphic facilitation, decision making support, system dynamics, argument mapping and so on?

For answers to these and other queries about technology and facilitation sign up for the February 19, 2013 1:00pm—2:00pm (Eastern) dialogue session with Jerry by emailing using this link helenwythe@hjwythe.com

Any ideas or offers for the March 19, 2013 dialogue. Save this date in your calendar April 15, 2013 for Jennifer Shepherd's session on Graphic Facilitation.

Look for more to come in the Updates and Newsletters.

From the Editor.

If you want to get a message out to the IAF Canada Membership in between the Newsletter -this is the forum. Send your items into the Editor by the last Monday of March 2013 for inclusion in the April IAF Canada Update.

How does this describe what you do as facilitator?

There are two ways of being creative.
One can sing and dance.
Or one can create an environment in which singers and dancers flourish.

Warren Bennis, US academic, management author (b. 1925)

Your Thoughts and Ideas—Please

Over the last few months IAF Canada has had some inquiries regarding advertising in our communication vehicles with members. As this is very new to us, the following has been drafted as a starting point. Through the process of dialogue with interested parties, this will become more defined.

We would appreciate your thoughts and ideas regarding this starting point. If you come across a business that may be interested in reaching out to the premier facilitators of Canada—please pass this along.

Your thoughts please……

There are no problem people, only problem facilitators, who can't cope with energy and creativity.
